

AMANDA HOFF

Occupational Therapist, MOT, OTR

Amanda graduated from Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology, 2008 and University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio with a Masters in Occupational Therapy in 2012.

Amanda loves helping families and children reach goals they never imagined possible! But, more importantly, she loves serving which allows her to become “more than a therapist” with her patients and their loved ones.

Amanda also loves spending time with family and friends, cheering on the Aggies (WHOOO!), traveling, crafting, and meeting new people.
